

EUGENE O'NEILL
THE MAN BEHIND THE PLAYS

by

Vinita Atmiyanandana
B.A., Chulalongkorn University, March 1957

007045

Thesis

submitted in partial fulfillment of the requirements for the

Degree of Master of Arts

in

Chulalongkorn University Graduate School

Department of English

March, 1963

(B.E. 2506)

Accepted by the Graduate School, Chulalongkorn University, in partial fulfillment of the requirements for the Degree of Master of Arts.

.....

Dean of the Graduate School

Thesis Committee ..... Prem Puvachata ..... Chairman

..... Donald H. Frantz Jr. .....

..... William H. ... .....

.....

.....

Thesis Supervisor ... Prem Puvachata .....

Date .. 29. March. 2506 ...

ABSTRACT

This thesis is a study of Eugene O'Neill's life and the environment that shaped him as a tragic dramatist; and deals with his important plays, their themes and their development.

CONTENTS

	Page
I INTRODUCTION	v
II THE MAN	1
1) Childhood : Parents, life on the road, education, beliefs, etc.
2) Maturity : Experiences at sea, marriage, work, Provincetown period, playwriting.	5
III THE PLAYS	43
Some important themes and their development.
1) The sense of belonging.
2) His preoccupation with the past.	52
3) The women in his plays.	64
4) Greed.	73
5) Violence and death.	77
IV. CONCLUSION	84
V FOOTNOTES	87
VI SYNOPSES OF THE PLAYS	94
VII BIBLIOGRAPHY	117

