Biography

Jennifer Rose Takeuchi, born Jennifer Rose Lindon, in Sydney, Australia, graduated with Honours in Japanese from The University of Sydney. She has also undertaken post-graduate studies in Japanese Literature at Kwansai Gakuin University and a Master of Business Law at Tsukuba University, both in Japan.

On graduating from the Consecutive and Simultaneous Interpretation Courses at SIMUL Academy in Osaka and relatively brief stints as an interpreter/translator at the Australian Embassy and as a derivatives researcher/translator at Nikko Research, Inc., Tokyo, Jennifer continued to work in Japan for more than 10 years as a freelance conference interpreter and translator, primarily for Nippon Television Network Corporation (NTV) and its subsidiary, Nippon Television Network Corporation Video (NTVV).

After giving birth to her first daughter in January, 1998, after 14 years of marriage, she remains active at NTVV, as a long-standing member of the NNN Weekly Magazine production staff. In the meantime, Jennifer has traveled back and forth between Japan and Thailand in order to pursue personal academic interests in Thai Studies.
